Be the first to witness the Asia premiere of Amy Ng's new adaptation of August Strindberg's Miss Julie.

Co-produced by Singapore Repertory Theatre and Hong Kong Arts Festival, this is a startlingly provocative play where differences of class and race rub against each other like tectonic plates, resulting in an eruption of sexual powerplay and class manipulation. Gripping to the very end, Miss Julie challenges preconceptions about racial supremacy, sexuality and taboo relationships.

Starring Heidi Parsons, Steve Chusak and Sharon Mah.
Directed by Ng Choon Ping (The Truth)
